EMPLOYER NETWORKS

There has been a large growth in employer networks for disability in recent years. If a vacancy interests you, by researching the organisation’s website, you will find whether they have any diversity networks. Networks tend to be more common in large organisations, as small to medium employers (SMEs), tend to know each other personally.

Examples include:

- Civil Service: diversity networks
- NHS diversity networks
- Shell’s enABLE network
- BAE Systems Disability Network

PROFESSIONAL / CAREER SECTOR NETWORKS

If you have a chosen career sector, it can be helpful to look at professional institute websites to find diversity networks. Often these networks can be diversity specific or cover all diversities. Here are some examples:

Management, Banking & Finance

- Institute of Consulting diversity networks
- Women in Banking & Finance
- Diversity & Inclusion Community Institute of Chartered Accountants
- Interbank – The London Financial Services LGBT Forum LGBT+ Networks from Financial Services Firms
IT

- Women in IT

Engineering

- AFBE-UK Association for Black and Minority Ethnic Engineers
- Equal Engineers promote diversity in engineering including careers fairs and student forum
- Women in Science Technology Engineering – regional networking events and a national student conference (November)
- Women's Engineering Society – offer conference, and one to one mentoring

Psychology & Mental Health

- https://www.bippnetwork.org.uk/ Black and Minority Ethnics in Psychiatry and Psychology Network (blogs, events, twitter)
- https://www.in2gr8mentalhealth.com/ a centre for destigmatising & supporting lived experience of mental health difficulties in mental health professionals
- www.ppn.nhs.uk Psychological Professionals Network – also has an Aspiring Practitioners Network

Property & Housing

- Freehold LGBT+ Real Estate Professionals
- Houseproud LGBT+ Housing Sector

Legal Profession

- Inter Law Disability Forum
- The Law Society – Ethnic Minority Lawyers Division supports and promotes solicitors and their allies through the provision of career-enhancing events, information and networking opportunities.
- Law society diversity networks
- Divercity in Law: A city law graduate mentoring scheme for LGBT+ candidates
